Available online: <https://pub.norden.org/temanord2021-535/> Naturally occurring materials, such as soil, mineral masses and rock masses from construction projects and infrastructure projects represent a high resource potential and potential for CO2-savings if used more efficiently. Large amounts of these materials are managed on an annual basis in the Nordic countries, but to enable a more resource efficient management of naturally occurring materials, several regulatory as well as practical challenges must be solved. Existing legislation in the Nordic countries is not a direct barrier that prevents optimal utilization of resources, but there are several untapped opportunities in regulation as well as problem areas that appear as barriers in practice. Efficient utilization of naturally occurring materials in the Nordic countries faces also a wide range of challenges in practice and from different angles.

One of the most effective ways to address a knowledge or skill gap is through an internal certificate program. These programs can help an organization strategically and thoughtfully develop its talent while aligning with organizational goals and performance. But how do you know if a certificate program is right for your organization and where do you start? The "Creating an Internal Certification Program" Infoline will show you how to * Differentiate between certificate programs and certification. * Determine needs and capabilities for building a certificate program. * Design/Develop/Implement a certificate program step by step. * Create a program evaluation. * Plan for program maintenance. Also included is a job aid to help you evaluate your program as well as a sample timeline and checklist to keep you on track.
